Dear Sylvia, 4/30/75

As I have hated to spend so much time of which you know in the past, so also do I deplore the present situation and the potential of the wierd assortment of people who are ruining everything and helping the Belins do their dirty work.

Sick as I am I felt it necessary to write these letters. (Lane, Wecht)

I'll be writing ABC, to which I wrote quite other than Schoenman represented. He took one sentence out of context. ABC actually told me that they had given Gregory the right to chose "the other side" (the requirement is "all responsible sides") and that he had chosen Lane. Crazy - they called to find if I would be available and at the same time told me this story.

Sorry I was too ill for us to get together. Best
